FUTURE READY LIBRARIANS PRESS RELEASE

As schools seek to become Future Ready, it is necessary to identify and cultivate leadership beyond district and building leaders. School librarians lead, teach and support the Future Ready goals of their school and district in a variety of ways through their professional practice, programs and spaces. If properly prepared and supported, school librarians are well-positioned to be at the leading edge of the digital transformation of learning.

Why not unleash the instructional leadership of librarians to foster Future Ready schools?

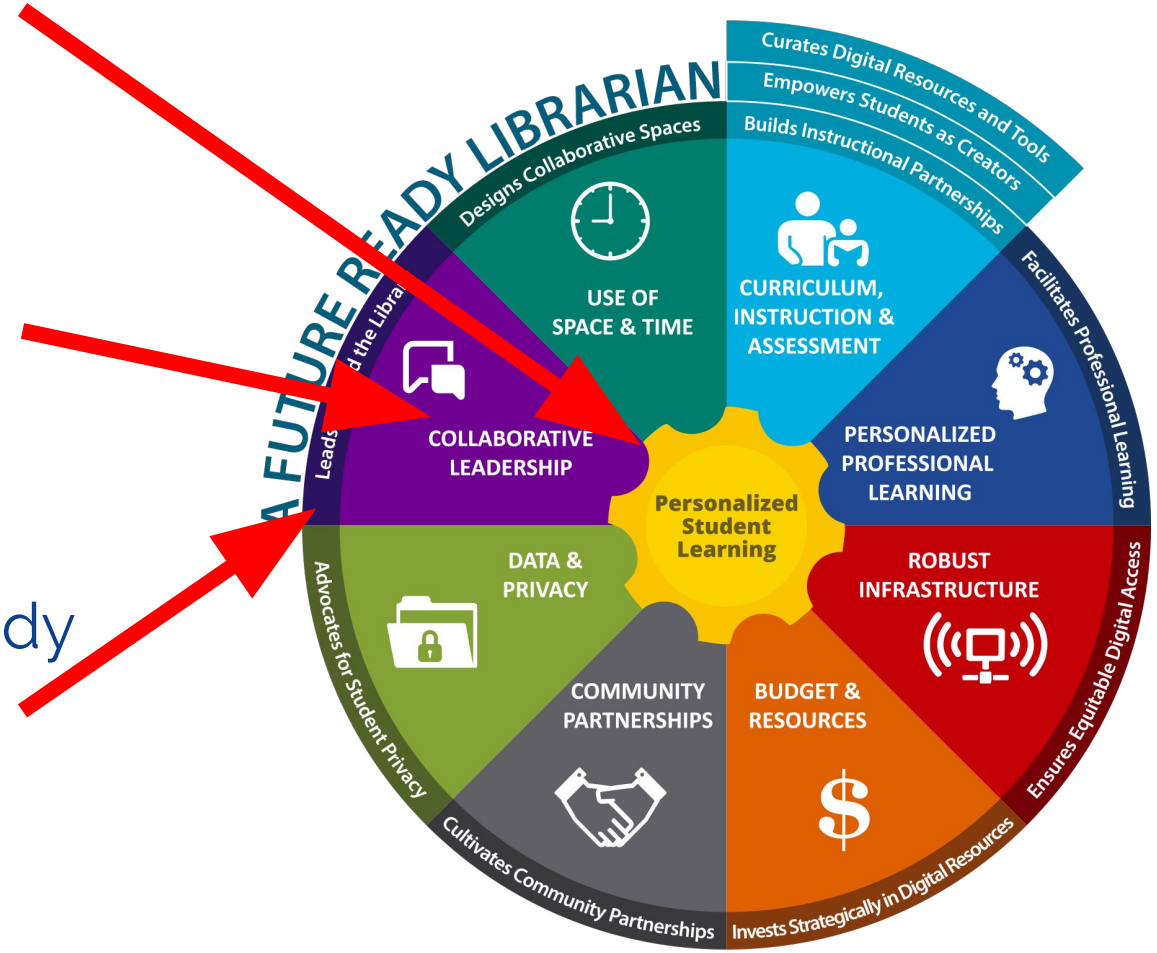
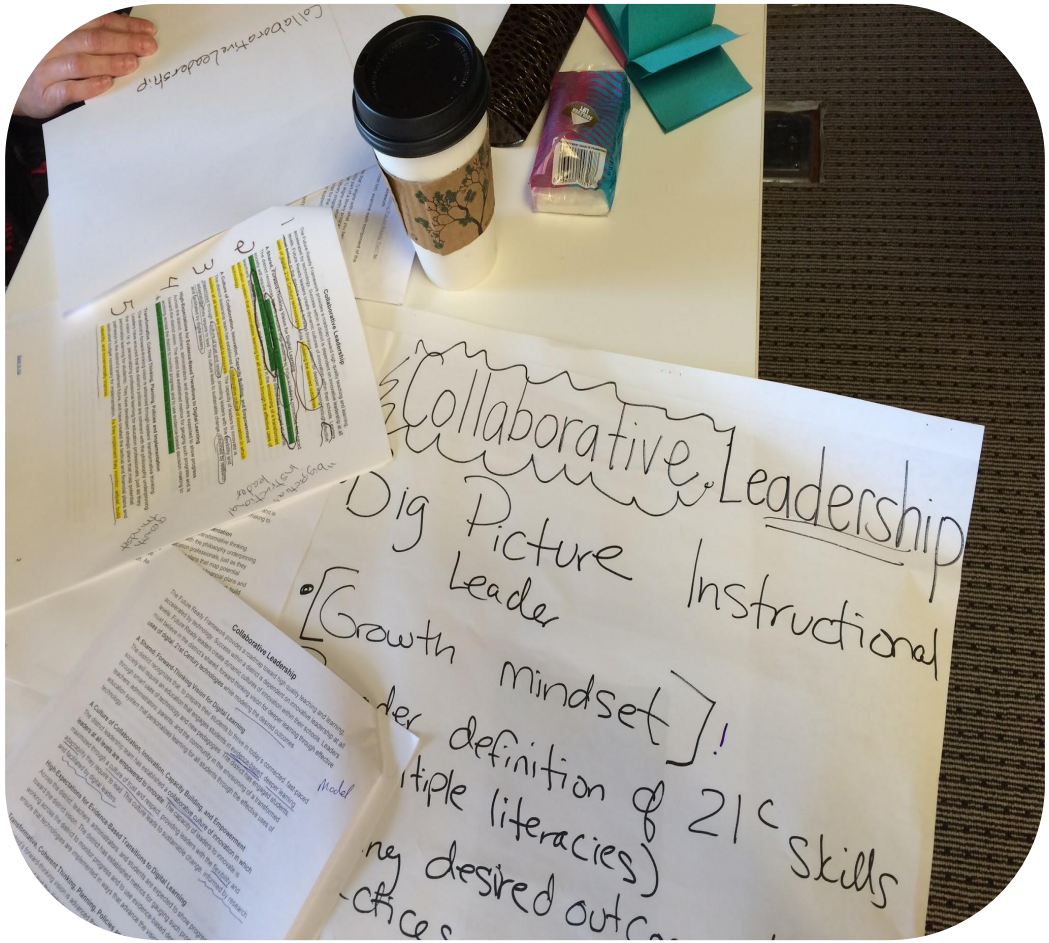
What is at the core of Future Ready?

What are the research-based components?

What actions can librarians take to support Future Ready schools?



FUTURE READY LIBRARIANS



- How might you get involved in the district strategic planning process?
- How does the librarian communicate what the library program does to support other district goals (equity, access and space)?
- Is there a plan to evaluate and analyze the library program through usage data and program statistics?

Linda Lee Dougherty My big question is how to narrow down to one goal. I know my co-librarian and I focused on one framework section as our goal. Work with your administration to center your evaluation (personal growth plan) on that goal. Will you finish it in one school year? 3 year plan? Document with data, surveys and photos is the plan. Btw, we are working on designing the spaces to provide room for creativity and collaboration.
